CHAMBERS OF
CHIEF JUSTICE SHIRLEY S. ABRAHAMSON

February 7, 2012

Dr. Robert Meyer, President
Wisconsin Indianhead Technical College
505 Pine Ridge Dr.
Shell Lake, WI 54871

Dear Dr. Meyer:

I am writing in connection with the court's consideration of the need of indigents for legal assistance in civil matters. For more information about the court's consideration of this issue, you may look at Rule Petition #10-08 on our website at <http://wicourts.gov/scrules/1008.htm>.

In addition to providing counsel for the indigent, the judicial and legal system can further help indigents by providing them with knowledgeable, trained non-lawyers. Of course, non-lawyers cannot practice law, but with proper training and supervision they can provide valuable assistance to those who cannot afford a lawyer. The technical college system, with its many campuses and programs, has numerous internship programs. These programs perform vital public services and provide significant educational experiences for your students.

I would be interested in meeting with you or your designee, in person or by telephone, to discuss the possibilities of placing student interns in the court and legal system in the communities in which the campuses reside. We have some experience with such internship programs and would be interested in expanding these programs with you. I have sent a similar letter to the University of Wisconsin System and to the Wisconsin Association of Independent Colleges and Universities. Perhaps there are opportunities for cooperative efforts between these institutions and the technical colleges.

If I am not communicating with the proper office, I would appreciate your advising me and forwarding this letter to the proper person.

I look forward to your response.

Sincerely,

Shirley S. Abrahamson

Dear Dr. Eckert:

I am writing in connection with the court's consideration of the need of indigents for legal assistance in civil matters. For more information about the court's consideration of this issue, you may look at Rule Petition #10-08 on our website at <http://wicourts.gov/srules/1008.htm>.

In addition to providing counsel for the indigent, the judicial and legal system can further help indigents by providing them with knowledgeable, trained non-lawyers. Of course, non-lawyers cannot practice law, but with proper training and supervision they can provide valuable assistance to those who cannot afford a lawyer. The technical college system, with its many campuses and programs, has numerous internship programs. These programs perform vital public services and provide significant educational experiences for your students.

I would be interested in meeting with you or your designee, in person or by telephone, to discuss the possibilities of placing student interns in the court and legal system in the communities in which the campuses reside. We have some experience with such internship programs and would be interested in expanding these programs with you. I have sent a similar letter to the University of Wisconsin System and to the Wisconsin Association of Independent Colleges and Universities. Perhaps there are opportunities for cooperative efforts between these institutions and the technical colleges.

If I am not communicating with the proper office, I would appreciate your advising me and forwarding this letter to the proper person.

I look forward to your response.

Sincerely,

Shirley S. Abrahamson
